My Health My Community launch

Date: June 27, 2013; 7:00-8:30 pm

Location: UBC Robson Square, Room C300 (800 Robson St.); webcast also available

My Health My Community is a new web-based health and wellness survey that will give residents the opportunity to help influence their community's health priorities. This initiative will help residents learn how their lifestyles, neighbourhoods & environment, all work together to affect overall health and well-being. The information collected will be used in partnership with local governments, healthcare planners, academia and community stakeholders to shape future programs & community services that will benefit individuals and whole communities.
