Funding Opportunities and Awards

Canadian Physician Health Institute: Special Projects Fund – Call for proposals

Deadline: June 9, 2014

The Canadian Physician Health Institute is a national program focused on promoting physician mental health and wellness. Created by the Canadian Medical Association and the Canadian Medical Foundation, the Institute works with and through partners, to share information and build knowledge around the issues related to physician mental health.

We are currently seeking applications to the Special Projects Fund. The fund is designed to support the promotion of physician health and wellness at the national level. We are encouraging submissions from a wide range of proponents including researchers, students, advocacy organizations, practicing physicians, residents, PhD students, educators, physician health programs and others. There is $145,000 available to be awarded through a peer-review process; the exact number of proposals to be funded will be determined through the assessment process. Please visit the website (hyperlinked above) for additional eligibility and submission details.

Upcoming Events

WORKSHOP: How to Write an Effective Animal Care Protocol

Date: May 29, 2014; 9:00-11:00 am

Location: UBC Office of Research Services (102-6190 Agronomy Road)

This free session is for Principal Investigators, Students, Staff and anyone else likely to fill out an animal ethics application. If you've ever wanted to learn or have a refresher on how to write a great Animal Care Protocol, here is your opportunity to learn from some of the Animal Care Committee members. You will learn about the level of detail to include, sections of the application that are commonly omitted or incomplete, and key things the Committee looks for when reviewing protocols.

Please RSVP to Roger Chow (roger.chow@ors.ubc.ca) if you're interested as space is limited to approximately 12 attendees. For a more current list of dates, please visit the website (hyperlinked above).

Additional Research and Scholarship Opportunities & Resources

University of Alberta Health Sciences Journal – Call for submissions

Deadline: July 1, 2014

The University of Alberta Health Sciences Journal (UAHSJ) is a student-run publication featuring peer-reviewed scientific articles across various health science disciplines on our campus. We just finished publication of our 10th issue. The UAHSJ is currently accepting submissions for our upcoming issue! We are looking for:

- Reports of original research studies (summer or ongoing research projects carried out by medical students will be considered)
- Manuscripts pertaining to any area of medicine including, but not limited to, innovation in medicine, health ethics, history of medicine, medical education, medicine and the arts, and global health.
- Brief case reports that carry educational value for students (they don't have to be the first reports of their kind-just interesting patients you've seen that you think would benefit other students)
- Medical Conference summaries
- Poetry written by medical students for our MUSA section

Publishing in the UAHSJ is a great way to get wide readership for your work. We are excited to announce that we have had submissions from across Canada and that all of our published articles are listed in databases such as Google Scholar. For submission guidelines please visit our website (hyperlinked above). Questions can be addressed to uahsj@ualberta.ca
