Events

Upcoming Events:

27-Apr-22 12:00-1:15pm (Virtual)

Neuroethics Canada: Ethics in Health

Ethics in Health is the fourth installation of Ethics for UBC, a five-part speaker series that will explore the current landscape of ethics scholarship and education across the Vancouver and Okanagan campuses of our university.

In attending this interactive 75-min panel discussion, you will have the opportunity to learn about the current ethics-related endeavours taking place at UBC, pressing ethical issues that exist across a wide range of disciplines, and the ways in which you can become more involved.

This panel discussion will focus on ethics across a variety of disciplines, spanning kinesiology and the exercise sciences, medicine, and neuroethics.

02-May-22 12:30-5:00pm (Hybrid; Jim Pattison Pavilion)

2022 Department of Medicine and Experimental Medicine Research Expo

UBC Department of Medicine and the Experimental Medicine Program is proud to present the 2022 Research Expo. This year, the event will be held in a hybrid format on May 2, 12:30pm to 5pm.

Our annual Research Expo brings together faculty and graduate students to highlight leading-edge discoveries, bridge interdisciplinary research, and inspire collaborative innovations. Students will have the opportunity to network with the leading scholars in the field of medicine and present their research to fellow students and faculty.

02-May-22 6:30-8:00pm (Hybrid; Robert H. Lee Alumni Centre, 6163 University Blvd OR Online via webinar)

Research horizons: What now, what next? An evening with UBC's newest University Killam Professors

Join UBC's six newest University Killam Professors for a unique glimpse into the future of their research and learn why the questions they're asking are important for us all. Discover what's inspiring these leading thinkers in diverse areas spanning physical rehabilitation, history, biomonitoring and age dating, multilingual literacy, ocean sustainability and evolutionary biology. Recognized for their outstanding research and teaching careers to date with the highest honour that UBC can bestow on its faculty, the University Killam Professors will address compelling questions, including:

- Will new technologies and digital health approaches adopted during the pandemic transform how patients recover from stroke?

Student Research News e-bulletin

April 22, 2022

- Can we understand the emotions behind the past decisions of our bureaucrats, and should it change how we assess the history of government activities?
- How can a global storytelling initiative contribute to decolonization?
- Which new species are rapidly arising? And why do they sometimes disappear in an instant?
- Can we reset how we interact with our oceans to advance economic equity and social justice in harmony with nature?
- What knowledge can we unlock from microscopic samples of chemical elements? What can they reveal about the earth's formation, our current environment and human social interaction?

10-May-22 2:30-6:30pm (Diamond Health Care Centre, Auditorium 1020)

Radiology Research Day 2022

UBC Department of Medicine and the Experimental Medicine Program is proud to present the 2022 Research Expo. This year, the event will be held in a hybrid format on May 2, 12:30pm to 5pm.

Our annual Research Expo brings together faculty and graduate students to highlight leading-edge discoveries, bridge interdisciplinary research, and inspire collaborative innovations. Students will have the opportunity to network with the leading scholars in the field of medicine and present their research to fellow students and faculty.

03-31-May-22 All Day (Virtual)

Five Days in May

Five Days in May is a provincial collaboration between Island Health, First Nations Health Authority, Fraser Health, Interior Health, Northern Health and Vancouver Coastal Health that is designed to educate, inform, inspire and stimulate.

Every year, we bring together researchers and students, patients and health-care providers, decision-makers and members of the public to learn, share ideas and spark innovation. Themes for this year's event include mental health and substance use, community health, COVID-19, Indigenous health, seniors health, rural health as well as practical skills sessions.

17&18-June-22 All Day (Virtual) Starts from $49 for students

7th Annual BC Infectious Diseases Symposium

Join us for the 7th Annual BC Infectious Diseases Symposium. This virtual program will review up-to-date and timely information about a wide range of infectious diseases over two half-days. Day one will cover a variety of relevant and timely infectious disease topics, with day two focusing on in-depth case discussions built upon the previous day's presentations.
